Module 3 Project

These tasks are to be completed during the project time for your track. For full-time these tasks will be completed in the afternoons after lunch break. For part-time these tasks are completed every other day, on the opposite days of the guided project instruction. Unlike Module 1 and 2, this writing assignment is more free-form. The prompt is at the bottom of this page. A link to your assignment will still need to be submitted on the AirTable form at the end of the day.

Lambda Lessons

In these videos you will listen to successful Lambda Students and how they felt about their Lambda experience.

The Bar is High

Watch Projects

On Friday afternoons many tracks have students present on their projects or builds for the week. We want you to have the opportunity to be able to view these presentations to get an idea of what you will be working on in the future

If available, links will be dropped in Slack

What's Your Why? (This is your assignment prompt!)

"If you can imagine it, you can create it. If you can dream it, you can become it" - William Arthur Ward

Really dig deep and fully explain your "Why?" of starting Lambda School. Imagine what your future will look like. This can take any format that will be useful to you in the future:

- A written letter from your "future self" to your "present self" about how your life is different now that you completed Lambda school.
- An electronic document with written details and pictures done in Pinterest, Trello, Notion, etc.
- A website or blog entry

You were always a very hard worker in college but lambda school is not even close to college. You were nervous to start a coding boot camp you didn't know if you should just get your bachelors in computer science or just attend a coding boot camp. After months of searching for the perfect coding school you came across lambda school the commercial to this school was always showing up on youtube ads and everywhere on facebook. It looked cool but also i was afraid to apply i started thinking to myself this school looks like it would be hard should I try it or just continue my degree? I told myself. So I stopped thinking and said i'm going to try what's the worst that can happen if lambda school doesn't accept me i can apply to another boot camp or go to college. I took the pre course and passed the lambda challenge and got into lambda you flexed a couple of times but you never gave up you knew this would be hard but will be worth it in the long run. You finished lambda school and had a couple of interviews you got hired and are now living comfortable and helping out your family. All because you didn't give up on yourself and lambda school didn't give up on you. Congratulations keep working hard
